- B. Five or six thousand Greeks are living in Szabadegyháza, a new village completed in 1950 between Budapest and Székesfehérvár; they receive food supplies, etc., without ration cards. It is not stated whether the Greeks are civilians or former military personnel, or whether there are women and children among them.
- 10. Repairs have been completed on the bridge over the Danube at Baja, which had been badly damaged by bombing during the war. The new bridge has two railroad tracks and two sidewalks, but no passage for vehicles. A similar bridge at Dunaföldvar, which is now under repair, will be completed in the fall of 1951. A bridge at Bratislava, in Czechoslovakia, was completed in May or June 1951, which has two railroad tracks, two trolley lines, and passages for vehicles and pedestrians.
- 11. In the spring of 1950 two pontoon bridges were removed from the Danube, one at Budapest and one about 15 kilometers to the south.
- 12. A new single-track railroad line is under construction from Mohács to Bátaszék. A new highway is being built from Mohács to Dunaföldvár, approximately parallel to the existing highway and between the latter and the Danube.
